

Hello Alexandria,

We are Google Trusted Photographers based in Atlanta, GA. We create Google Virtual Tours for businesses, which is like GoogleStreet View but for the inside of a business. A Google virtual tour lives on a business Google+ page and can be embedded on a business website and Facebook.

We will be in your town for a wedding the weekend of June 20th. We thought that we'd let your organization know that we'd be visiting, if there are any businesses that would like to take advantage of us being there to get a tour of their business during that time. Please take a moment to look at our website at atlantastreetviewinside (dot) com to get a sense of what this premium Google service is and how it works to help a small business owner get found on Google.

This is usually best for restaurants, retail and event spaces but many types of business find this a valuable marketing tool. Feel free to call or email to request more information.

Cheers, DJ Jennings

The cost of a tour is determined by the size of the space that a client would like to have covered in the tour. Prices start at $300 for a micro tour and then go up correspondingly as the size of the tour/amount of photography increases.

I've provided some examples of different size tours (click on the price to take you to an example tour of that price range). Please note: per Google guidelines, except for special circumstances, all tours start with two panoramic nodes (PANOS) outside of the business, one far out in front for a broad overview, and one just outside the front door.

Below are examples of different pricing sizes and cost. You know your space and what you'd like to show. If you'd like to have us come out to create this virtual tour and all of these photos for you, we could just show up with the understanding that we can walk you through a customer's space and give them options, and then they can decide which package they'd like to go with.
